Art Unit: 2833

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the bayonet fitting and latching connection of claims 31 and 32 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered. Thus these limitations will not be further considered on their merits.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 and 19-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmidt 6561815 in view of any of Corfits et al 4853830 or Bixler et al 5466171 or Gibbs et al 5431570.

Schmidt substantially discloses the claimed invention except for the approximate guide. Corfits et al discloses substantially conical vertical guides 46,39 that provide approximate (intermediate) positioning. Bixler et al discloses substantially conical vertical guides 48. Gibbs et al discloses dovetail guides 272 that provide approximate positioning. It would have been obvious to provide Schmidt et al with any of these types of approximate guide, to provide initial alignment between the opposed connectors. The specific play in the guide would have been an obvious matter of routine experimentation.

Claims 16-18 and 33-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmidt in view of any of Corfits et al or Bixler et al or Gibbs et al as applied to claim 21 above, and further in view of EP 573471.

Schmidt as modified by any of the secondary references substantially discloses the claimed invention except for a magnet tray and restraining device. EP '471 admittedly discloses such structure, and to provide Schmidt with same thus would have been obvious, for a higher mating force between opposed connectors.

The other references cited on Form 892 disclose similar magnetic/alignment means.
